TUESDAY MORNING, OCT 14 1862

The Traitorous Press in Oregon

We published a few days since the order of Gen Wright refusing the use of the mails and expresses of Oregon to the circulation of the Portland Advertiser the Albany Inquirer and Eugene Democrat three papers we call disloyal and labored for the destruction of the Government The first was very properly suspended itself several days before the receipt of the order

We do not understand the reason why the Corvallis Union was not included in the order of Gen Wright Possibly the paper had not been placed on its boards The Union claims to be the leading paper of the secesh party in the State It is quite equal if not in advance in treason of its late contemporaries We have now before us the Union of the 9th instant Manifestly the editor is in correspondence with traitors The paper referred to contains extracts from a letter from Richmond, received in Southern Oregon dated May 29th which is introduced to his readers by editorial remarks Who received this letter in Southern Oregon we are not told The editor knows that public opinion would frame an individual whose avowals of treason can be found in the records of the United States Senate. The letter thus given by the Union closes as follows

"I will say to my Oregon friends, be not discouraged We here, are in good spirits and do not doubt the final success of the Southern Confederacy"

The same letter tells his Oregon friends "The Confederate States will never consent to any peace only upon the basis of separation"

The Union has much to say about abolition and the designs of the Government to free slaves as the object of carrying on the war—but this letter which the editor publishes with approbation, insists that the Confederacy will carry on the war until the Government will agree to a separation of the States, and that there is no doubt of the final success of the measure

The Union closes its extracts with these words, remarkable as connected with the letter "The rest of the letter is private"

Unquestionably it contained matters and things which the Union chose not to publish Doubtless it stated what was expected of its "Oregon friends" We know what Joe Lane designed to do when he came to Oregon We know what Gwin, Latham, McConnel, Shoalwalter and others wanted to do in California "The rest of the letter is private" It had better be kept so It might, if published, cause the elevation of some individuals

Can we doubt the feelings and wishes of a man who could publish this communication from a rebel officer Can we doubt that he has confederates who are acting with him and sympathizing with him Can we fail to believe that there is a master spirit in Southern Oregon who is the head of the rebels in this State, and that they are organized and ready to show what "Oregon friends" can do for the rebellion

These sympathizers have constantly rejoiced when adversities befall our army They have constantly been hoping that such events would be followed by the recognition of the Southern Confederacy by France and England

These wretches want the flag of Washington to be trampled under foot by Englishmen, Frenchmen and traitors Oh, how we hate such men What harm has our country ever done them Have they not had all the liberty they desired Do not they owe all that they have and are to the free Government their hell-deserving friends would destroy Certainly they do and yet they rejoice over the murder of our people, and express the hope that despotism may triumph over freedom We have such men in Oregon We need the gallows and the haugman in our country We believe we shall have both If there is an object on earth repulsive to a patriot it is a secession sympathizer

When we think of our free Republic—all that it has done for and offered to humanity—its recognition of man as man entitled to all the rights of manhood without wealth or title when we see it outstretching its arms to the oppressed and down trodden every where, saying to all Here is a place of refuge—here is an asylum for all who are oppressed—we feel for our dear country as a love that knows no bounds and when we hear men who were born in this country expressing the wish that it might go the way of all previous republics, we cannot help expressing the wish that traitors should receive the traitor's proper doom

CUTE YANKEEISM —An American ship lately arrived safely at Havre from New York which had her hold full of petroleum, pumped loose into the hold—a feat so daring that none but American shippers and American sailors would attempt it The ship, of course, was built expressly for the purpose, and can never be used for anything else Her hold is a vast hogshead, made oil tight, and her entire cargo is pumped in and pumped out again

GOING HOME —Mr W D Carter, long known in this State as an excellent citizen a quiet gentleman and a Bro Type to boot his departure last evening on the steamer Pacific for the Eastern States to visit the place though not the scenes of his childhood as we fear a different sight will meet his gaze and depress his heart from those which he beheld on leaving there ten or twelve years ago However we wish him a pleasant and speedy voyage a happy and agreeable visit and a safe return

ROBBED ON A RAID —On Friday night last a number of citizens proceeded to a house in the suburbs of the town and taking therefrom a fellow named John Hughes treated him to a ride on a rail The scamp had invaded the marital rights of an old man He was found snugly ensconced by the side of the faithless wife without any clothing on other than a shirt In this condition he was taken and put through sundry exercises in the midst of which he managed to get away and rushed through town, sans everything save the aforesaid shirt We think Johnny has received a lesson that will do him good —Washingtonian

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Bookstore, and at Charles Barrett's, Front street.

WILL IT AFFECT THE CONSEQUENCES?—We are requested to state that no wedding took place at the house of Mr. C. S. Silvers, of this city, the 11th inst., as published in the ——— as yesterday morning. There is evidently some mistake about this matter, but we think it will seriously affect the results or consequences unable to say.

CITY.—We understand that a kind hearted individual, who has recently taken unto himself a better half—perhaps feeling himself extremely happy over his good luck, concluded to prove his liberality by making a donation of extra clothing to the poor and needy emigrants, and Saturday last distributed a basket of clothing to be left at a certain place, but after maturely reflecting upon the subject concluded he couldn't afford the clothing, and the last was heard of him, he was making a rain attempt at recovery.

ARRIVED.—The schooner Alert has arrived, notwithstanding the fact that we had said she had arrived day before yesterday. The Alert is expected every hour, having been since coming into the river. She brings 200 tons of salt from San Francisco, to Alexander Dodge, proprietor of the Portland Salt Works.

ARRIVAL.—The Pacific sailed last night about 9 o'clock with a large number of passengers and $95,000 in treasure, per Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express.

NEW PAPER.—Another daily paper is soon to be started in this city by Messrs. Snyder and Eastabrooks, to be called the Commercial. The first number will appear on Monday evening next. All the gentlemen are practical printers, and know what they are doing and can tell whether or is to be "independent in all things and neutral in nothing." We have the best wishes of its publishers that it is to be and say without condition or equivocation, and we wish them success.

ARRIVAL.—The Julia arrived last night at past eight from Cascades with passengers, among whom were a large number of Indians. More than half the passengers are immigrants from the plains. They have also about 90 head of horses and cattle on board. We hear of no later important news. No dust was brought down, as there was no connection with Dalles. We are indebted to Wells, Fargo & Co. for the use of the Mountaineer.

PUBLISHED.—Mr. H. L. Pittock, publisher and proprietor of the OREGONIAN, is absent on a visit to the East.

ORDINANCE to Regulate and License Porters.

Be it ordained by the City of Portland do ordain as follows:

Section 1. It shall not be lawful for any person within the limits of the city aforesaid to pursue any calling or transact any business specified in this ordinance within the limits of said city, until he shall have obtained a license therefore, and paid into the Treasury of said city the sum hereinafter specified and provided.

Sec. 2. All licenses shall be paid quarterly in advance.

Sec. 3. Every person engaged in the business of Tavern keeping, or keeping a house of entertainment of travelers, shall pay for license so to do, the sum of twenty dollars per quarter.

Sec. 4. Every person engaged in the business of receiving customers for any Tavern, restaurant or other public house, shall pay for license so to do, the sum of ten dollars per quarter.

Sec. 5. In case of a violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, the offender shall be fined in not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, to be recovered on complaint before the Recorder, as in other cases for violations of city ordinances and in case of failure to pay such fine, may be committed to the City Prison for not less than one nor more than five days.

Sec. 6. This ordinance to take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the Mayor.

Approved Sept. 3d, 1862.

Passed the Common Council, Oct. 8th, 1862.

O. RISLEY, Clerk. President.

Approved October 17th, 1862.

J. F. McCOY, Acting Mayor.

Dr. Hall's Patent Lever Trusses.—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever invented. The principle is new and different from any other. The works on a Knuckle, giving it a circular and UPWARD motion, thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other instruments, and the pain consequent upon heavy pressure is entirely avoided.

They will not rust, and are the lightest, most durable and most cleanly of all others. They can be worn in the bath. Many persons have been cured by their use of several years standing.

The sudden changes of our climate are productive of CATARRH, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS, having proved that simple remedies often fail, and certainly when taken in the early stages, recourse should at once be had to "Dr. Trochez," or Lozenges, let the Cold or irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by a more serious attack may be effectually prevented. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them relieving and strengthening the voice. Sold by Druggists.

SEWING MACHINES ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
—AND—
Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE
SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a straight lock-stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less; on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer; should stitch, fell, run and gather; and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the underside of the work.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

It is composed entirely of healing gums and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can state sincerely, say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night. It will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally. If a mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and cure in a short time.

State Agricult'l Society—Premium Essay.

Essay on Oregon—its Resources, Capabilities and Advantages and the Inducements it offers to Immigrants.

BY W. J. GIBBS.

GENERAL DISCRIPTION.

The State of Oregon, although it contains a population less than one-third as large as that of the smallest State in the American Union, extends over an area of territory greater than any other, except Texas and California. It is nearly rectangular in shape, and is about four hundred miles in length from East to West, by an average of from two hundred and sixty to two hundred and eighty miles North and South; comprising an area of 192,000 square miles—an extent of surface equal to that of all New England and the State of Kentucky combined. Or it would make thirteen States of the size of Massachusetts, and leave a margin of seven hundred and sixty-eight thousand acres unappropriated.

Bounded on the North by the Columbia river and Washington Territory, and on the South by California, this State is comprised between the 42d and 46th parallels of north latitude, and its entire western border is washed by the Pacific Ocean.

In configuration of surface, and general aspect, Oregon is unlike any of the States east of the Rocky Mountains, but probably presents as great a variety of scenery as all of them together. Standing on the summit of one of the lofty mountains of the Cascade range, when the verdure and fragrance of Spring have just attained their loveliest period, the admirer of nature has, spread out before him, a prospect such as he can behold no where else in America. In one view he may embrace the rugged steeps of the Green Mountains, the blue, wooded slopes of the Alleghanies, and the ice-crowned peaks of the Alps; the volcanic piles of the Andes, the broad plateaux of Brazil, the fertile prairies of the upper Mississippi, and the lawns, groves and copses of the sunny South. To the eastward he beholds an immense plateau, or elevated plain, relieved at distant intervals by spurs from the mountain chains, and sloping gently in different directions, toward the various streams, which, wending their way through mountain gorges to the ocean, or to some silent lake, drain the eastern portion of the State. To the west he surveys a country diversified by great river, and small streamlet; by tall mountain, and deeply embosomed valor; by gentle undulations, and precipitous, high-walled canons; by dark, frowning forests of pine and fir, spruce and cedar, which the eye fails to penetrate, and natural gardens all carpeted over with luxuriant grasses, redolent with the odors of wild flowers, and full of the music of winged choristers.

Or if he choose a mellow autumn day, the same landscape is stretched out before him, clothed in the more substantial habiliments of the year's maturity, suggesting brown and comfortable thoughts of contentment, peace and plenty.

Oregon is peculiar in climate, especially that portion lying west of the Cascade Mountains, which is affected greatly by its proximity to the ocean. This portion has a climate in many respects closely resembling that of England. Although in a high latitude, it is mild—neither very hot in summer, nor extremely cold in winter; is damp and somewhat disagreeable during what is termed the Rainy Season, corresponding with the Winter of the East; but delightful through the summer and autumn.

The climate in the eastern portion of the State, has some resemblance to that of the older north-western States, excepting the frequent rains which fall in those States during the late summer months.

As a whole, the State of Oregon presents so great a variety of climate, that it cannot be accurately exhibited under any general description, and which will more fully appear from special descriptions and tables hereafter presented. It is a matter to be regretted, that the compass of a brief essay does not permit the presentation of minute and extensive details of observations on this, as well as many other subjects connected with this infant State, so far as the same are obtainable; but it is much more to be regretted that no record has been kept from which statistical information might be collected, showing the Industrial and Commercial capabilities of the State, except to a very limited extent.

HISTORY.

The early history of Oregon contains many interesting features, and many incidents that would instruct as well as amuse the reader; but the necessary limits of a cursory view of the country, render it inadmissable to give such matters at length.

About the year 1803, after the purchase of Louisiana, the attention of the United States government was directed to the subject of exploring the newly acquired territory; and Captains Lewis and Clark, of the army, were entrusted jointly with an expedition for that purpose. The vast region of country embraced in that purchase, included all the lands now owned by the Government, west of the Mississippi river and north of the Mexican territory, and, of course, the district now known as the State of Oregon.

To explore this country, Lewis and Clark performed an overland journey across the continent; and gliding down the Columbia to its mouth, in light canoes, they spent a dreary winter on the Clatsop plains, near the present site of Astoria. At that time, though a few vessels had coasted about these borders, no mark of civilization was to be seen along the banks of the second largest river in North America, and few of the numerous savages inhabiting the wilds of Oregon, had ever before seen the pale face of a European.

In 1811, John Jacob Astor planted a small trading establishment at the mouth of the Columbia, from which circumstance the present town of Astoria derived its name. He was defrauded of this establishment in two years, by the North West Company, who took advantage of the war then waging between the United States and England, and forced Mr. Astor's Company to yield the post to them rather than have it seized by the English Government.
